J. S. HURD. Commander. from the chair editorial of the Kalida unpretending sheet, printed on type almost worn out-such a paper as many would pass unnoticed; yet we have always hailed its appearance. We like its manly, fearless tone, and its untiring devotion to the cause of truth and right. We hope that the effective pen of Mr. Mackenzie will continue to be wielded Has removed his Hat and Cap Store to in behalf of that cause for which he No. 7, UNION BLOCK, SECOND ST. has already sacrificed so much, and in the manful defence of which he has earned a reputation so enviable.

WASHINGTON CORRESPON-DENCE. Correspondence of the New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 28, 1854. Col. Benton says he has the Pacific Railroad in his pocket, that is to say, he has received the games of twenty-three of the most eminent capitalists in the country, to be put into a bill, as the names of members of a Company to whom Congress shall grant simply the absolute right of way through the public lands for a railroad to the Pacific .-These names were furnished him by Wm. F. Weld, the "Railroad King" of New England. Every man on the list is a millionaire, and, although some of them have not been consulted in the matter, Mr. Weld guarantees that all will consent to take part in the enterprise. The following is the list: Hon. Abbot Lawrence, Wm. Sturgis, Robert C. Winthrop, Samuel Hooper, William Appleton, John M. Forbes, J. E. Thayer, David A. Neal, H. H. Hunnewell, Wm. F. Weld, William Amory, all of Boston; John C. Brown, of Providence, R. I.; Wm. R. Rodman, of New Bedford, Mass., Erastus Corning, of Albany, N. Y.; George Griswold, T. W. Perkins, Watts Sherman, R. H. Winslow, Edwin C. Litchfield, George Bancroft, Thomas Tileston, John A. Stevens, Robert B. Minturn, all of New York. Col. Benton proposes to introduce a bill giving these gentlemen the right of way for the road, leaving them to select the route, and giving no aid whatever from the Government, nor any promise of aid .-He thinks he will get his bill through, and that the Company will go on with the work at once.
